Obama Repeal Moot if a New Initiative Changes the FDA Law which Effectively Bans Alternatives

Healthcare is now more than 17% of the entire GDP of the U.S.A. Heart disease is the number one killer of Americans with an annual death toll over 800,000.[1]

Nobel Prize winning scientist Linus Pauling discovered and patented a cure for heart disease. This fact has not been reported for more than twenty years because of the high percentage of advertising revenue the major media outlets receive from pharmaceutical advertising. If this incredible news were revealed to the American public, it is not hyperbole to estimate that within 30 days, 40% of health care dollars spent on cardiovascular disease would no longer be spent.

How has this news been kept secret? It is a federal crime in America for a company to cure a major disease and also sell a product to implement that cure. Only “drugs” are allowed to prevent, mitigate, treat, cure or diagnosis a disease. Vitamin C is not a drug, until a company tells the truth about it.

The nonprofit 501(c)(3) Vitamin C Foundation has been promoting Linus Pauling vitamin C research findings for twenty years. Recently, the non-profit was sent a warning letter from the FDA which effectively forced the Foundation to remove 20 years worth of links to scientific studies because the FDA considers these links “qualified health claims.” Unfortunately for all Americans, this vitally important health information about vitamin C is not taught in medical schools.

Why would the Federal government attack the tiny Vitamin Foundation? Our soul source of financial support is sponsoring vitamin C products. The FDA claims our links to the science have effectively created drugs out of an essential vitamin. Foundation attorneys inform us that the web site may not have links to any positive studies about vitamin C if we also sponsor or have links to any vitamin C products. If your head hurts, you are not alone. Our attorney’s also tell us that not complying with the FDA edict would risk a Federal enforcement raid, including confiscation of our computers and effectively shutting down our operation.

The law needs to change.

The Foundation has retained the law firm of Jonathan Emord and Associates to help us draft a petition to alter the wording of the Federal Food and Drug Act defining a drug as an unnatural substance that may cause harm. And a vitamin would not be subject to FDA drug regulations.
The Vitamin C Foundation web site (VitaminCFoundation.ORG), minus its 20 years of health information about vitamin C, will take on a new mission to spearhead the effort to change the federal law that classifies a food as a drug because it "prevents, mitigates, treats or cures."

The cure for heart disease is only the beginning. The Vitamin C Foundation believes that cost of health care could conceivably drop to as low as 3% of the GDP almost overnight. This would happen because of what is known about vitamin C alone, because of its effect curing heart disease and cancer.

Widespread dissemination of this news would make-pharma and BIG-medicine a lot poorer overnight.

Stay tuned.

Miracle of your web site..

I am going to go to every one of my 200 doctors and give them copies of all this if it's ok. They have a lot of explaining to do! I also have at least 20 years of my past medical records of these ailments that I had to retrieve to file for disability.

I would just like to share with you the true miracle of your website. After 5 years of personal research in trying to cure myself and with several readings and re-readings of your website, especially Stone's papers, I was able to cure my fibromyalgia, chronic fatigue, severe circulatory problems, arthritis, and even a horrific swollen cheek with a toothache and bleeding gums. I have also had a heart attack and hemolytic urea syndrome years ago. After listening to a speech by Dr. Levy in which he said "he had a hunch" that even chronic diseases could be cured if vit c was administered long enough and strong enough. So that is what I did. I started out slowly with oral supplements but couldn't tolerate it with bowels. So I bought his Lipo C and took 5-15 packets daily over the course of 7 days and suddenly nearly all my horrific ailments are gone. I even began sleeping at night!! I use to read blogs like this and refused to believe that they could be true. In the end, the research papers you have published is what finally clinched it. I even diagnosed my own subclinical signs of scurvy with your website. I am going to go to every one of my 200 doctors and give them copies of all this if it's ok. They have a lot of explaining to do! I also have at least 20 years of my past medical records of these ailments that I had to retrieve to file for disability. God Bless you all. I am soooo happy.
